GREAT THRONG VIEWS COLLINS LYING IN STATE

THOUSANDS PAY LAST HONORS TO DEAD LEADER IN DUBLIN; MULCAHY COMMANDS ARMY

Body to Lie in State in City Hall To-Day, Then in Cathedral.

DAIL MEMBERS ARRIVE.

May Meet To-Morrow to Choose Successor to Collins.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24 (Associated Press).—Draped in the beloved tricolor flag of Ireland, the coffin containing the body of Michael Collins, the slain chief of Ireland's new Free State Government, was landed here early to-day from the steamer Classic and later borne through the streets amid an impressive tribute from the assembled multitude numbering thousands.

Gen. Collins' body was met at the dock by large throngs of mourners, including Richard Mulcahy, Chief of Staff, and other prominent representatives of the army. The body was taken on a gun-carriage, preceded by a band of pipers, to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Prayers were said at the procession, passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the grief-stricken city. The cortege was flanked by a line of Dublin Guards marching in slow time, with the mounds of their bayonets fixed to the rifles. A detachment of civic guards in blue uniforms followed. They were the only uniformed men in the procession.

Immediately behind came an armed car, bursting with rifles held at all angles, comprising an inconspicuous element to the mournful procession. Several men who were wounded in the fighting near Handon, County Cork, Tuesday night, in which Collins lost his life, had accompanied their beloved leader's body on the sea voyage to Dublin.

It was arranged to remove the body from St. Vincent's Hospital, with an impressive ceremony, to the City Hall later in the day in order to give the thousands of sorrowing Irishmen and women an opportunity of seeing for the last time the features of their national hero lying in state. To-morrow the remains will be taken to the cathedral, where a high requiem mass will be held preceding the funeral at the Glasnevin Cemetery on Monday.

From midnight last night crowds had been gathered at the North Quay to witness the arrival of the Classic, which docked at 2 o'clock this morning. Scenes typical of the nation's sorrow marked the progress of the coffin from the steamer through the long avenue of troops with reversed arms to the waiting gun carriage.

Regular officers, despite the plain oak casket in the Free State colors and placed it on the wooden platform built on the eighteen-pounder gun.

COLLINS WAS KILLED ON HIS WEDDING DAY

HAD BEEN POSTPONED, HOWEVER, AFTER GRIFTH'S DEATH.
LONDON, Aug. 24 (Associated Press).—The marriage of Michael Collins, slain chief of the Irish Free State, to Miss Kitty Kiernan had been fixed originally for last Tuesday, the day Collins was killed, a Dublin dispatch says. The wedding date had been postponed, however, until later this month, on account of the death of Arthur Griffith, President of the Dail Eireann Cabinet. Miss Kiernan already had bought her trousseau.

CITIZENS BEATEN, LABOR CHARGES, BY 'MILLER COSSACKS'

State Federation Demands Governor Immediately Disband Troops.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Aug. 24.—The convention of the New York Federation of Labor to-day adopted a resolution calling upon its Executive Council to introduce in the 1923 Legislature a bill for the abolition of the State Constabulary, characterized by several of the delegates as "Gov. Miller's Cossacks."

"We asked Gov. Miller for a peaceful investigation of the strike in Buffalo, and he sent the Cossacks," said Mr. Collins. They went through the streets brutally beating down innocent men, women and children.

Mr. Collins read affidavits, purporting to have been made by citizens of Buffalo and signed before Leo H. Grutzel, commissioner of deeds, in that city. One, bearing the name of Rosalind Spink, said she was the mother of seven children and that on the evening of July 22 she was sitting on the steps of their home when children when three troopers came up, clubbed two of her sons and then struck her without any provocation.

Another affidavit, signed by Joseph Rodler, said a trooper rode into his soft drink place July 22 and struck him and a customer in the face with a club. Others told of being beaten by troopers.

"The troopers rode into Dominick Street and clubbed women and children," said Mr. Collins. "The first person they clubbed was a war veteran with three chevrons on his sleeves."

Scott McGraw, or McGrath, of the troops went to the Du Pont Powder Company and purchased twenty-five pounds of dynamite in the name of Clarence F. Conroy, business agent for the Street Car Men's Union, and for an excuse he said he just wanted to show how easy it was to get dynamite under assumed names. Yet all the names in the world he picked off Clarence F. Conroy, and we haven't found out yet what they were with that dynamite."

TWO SHIPS DAMAGED IN COLLISION.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The American steamship Lewis Luckenbach and the British steamship Southwestern collided in the Delaware below Marcus Hook to-day. Both vessels were reported badly damaged. The Luckenbach had a hole stove in the rear of the starboard side, while the Southwestern Miller had her stem twisted and a hole torn in her bow above the waterline. No one was injured.

EX-MAYOR OLES ARRESTED, RIDES IN PATROL WAGON

Business Rival Accuses Him of Blocking Sidewalk at His Market.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 24. George L. Oles, who resigned as Mayor two months ago, after a stormy administration, was arrested to-day and taken to the police station in a patrol wagon to face charges of obstructing the sidewalk in front of his downtown market.

The complaint was made by Morris Squires, proprietor of a rival market. Squires and Oles have engaged in bitter personal exchanges through their newspaper advertisements for a long period. The former Mayor gave bond of $10 for his appearance later.

IRISH-AMERICAN WITH COLLINS IN HIS LAST FIGHT

GENERAL DALTON.

Michael Collins, when he fell, called for Major Gen. Dalton who, with Gen. Sean McConnell, murmured with him his last prayers. Collins died in Dalton's arms. The stains on Dalton's uniform later caused the spread of a false report that he, too, had been murdered.

Major Gen. Dalton is an Irish-American, whose home is in Boston.

THREE ARE INJURED AS TRUCK CRASHES INTO TROLLEY CAR

Driver Arrested After Accident on Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn.

A heavy truck maneuvering to back up to the curb in front of the warehouse of Shober Brothers, dealers in iron at No. 417 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, struck a Fifth Avenue open trolley car bound for South Ferry with twenty or more passengers just before noon to-day.

Frederick J. Mullin of No. 962 41st Street, conductor of the car, was hurled from the running board, broken and bruised. Policeman Patrick Leonard of No. 267 12th Street was cut and bruised about the head. Police Lieut. William Irving of the 14th Inspection District was knocked down and his ankle sprained, but he refused assistance. Dr. Shodol of the Holy Family Hospital cared for the other two.

James Carasone of No. 162 Butler Street was notified to appear in court to explain why he was driving without a license.

SCOTT WINS STRIKE; GIRLS CAST KISSES

95 Fair Ones Wanted Foreman Reinstated as He Is.

Ninety-five young women employed in the Maurice Levy Company, Inc., powder puff manufacturers in Grand Avenue, New Rochelle, returned to work to-day because of the efforts of Detective George Scott, who settled their difficulties with the company. They were all smiles, for they had won their point, and hundreds of kisses were thrown to the detective as they passed him at the entrance of the plant.

The girls left their places of employment last yesterday, because their foreman, Charles Miller, had been discharged. They told the management they would not return to work until Miller went back to his position. The girls gathered about the factory, and policemen and Detective Scott went there. Scott talked to the girls and then saw the firm. The result was the announcement that Miller would be reinstated, so Scott is hailed as a great arbitrator.

GERMAN MARK AT 10 FOR ONE CENT.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The German mark crashed to 100 to the pound, or approximately 1,000 to the dollar, to-day following receipt of news that France had refused to accept Germany's latest suggestion for a moratorium of five months.

Beautiful "Gambling Vamps" And Diamond Dice Worth $400 Captured in Raid on Apartment

Two Comely Women and Escort Charged With Luring Hotel Pennsylvania Guests to Luxurious Gaming Tables.

A pair of dice set with diamonds and valued at more than $400 and several other pairs of just plain "Ivories," which were worth a great deal more to their owners because they could be made to behave just as their roller wished them to behave, police say, were seized by detectives in a fashionable apartment at No. 115 West 71st Street last night and two former Folies beauties and a man companion are under arrest charged with grand larceny as the result of several complaints reaching the police that wealthy out of town buyers had been lured to the apartment and relieved of large amounts of money.

Arraigned in West Side Court before Magistrate Levine on a charge of grand larceny, the three were held in bail of $1,000 each for examination to-morrow. The bail was furnished and the three were released. Request for the adjournment was made by Kessie Frankel, attorney, of No. 1476 Broadway.

The prisoners are said by the detectives to have been active for months in luring wealthy men from lobbies of hotels and from cabarets to the apartment, but most of the victims refrained from lodging complaints in the fear that their actions would become known to their home folks. The man arrested with the two former Folies girls, who described himself as Louis Rubenstein, thirty-one, of the Hotel Harding, 54th Street and Broadway, said he was innocent and hoped his wife in Atlantic City would not hear of his arrest.

The young women prisoners described themselves as Gertrude Gordon, twenty-two, a manicure, and May Byrne, twenty-four. Both are beautiful and the latter was described by one of the detectives who made the arrests as a ravishing blonde. Both were in the Ziegfeld Follies until about two years ago.

The Byrne girl won her freedom at the West 65th Street Station, where Emmanuel Eichen, assistant manager of the Palais Royale and the Little Club, put up $1,000 bail. This was arranged by a man named Rosenfeld, from whom the woman was divorced six months ago.

But the Gordon girl and Rubenstein were taken to Police Headquarters and brought up to the line-up room. The girl, who was fashionably dressed, attempted to hide her face when she stepped from the patrol wagon.

Several pairs of what the police call "phonies" and put-and-take dice, which were included in the paraphernalia seized, Police said the girls were doing a thriving business and that Rubenstein was receiving one-third of the profits for bringing buyers to the apartment.

Tuesday Samuel Oberlander, head of a Charleston, S. C., clothing concern, said a man accosted him in the hotel lobby and took him to an apartment where he lost $303 in cash and a check. He gave the detective a description of the man. Early last night a man answering the description stopped a Pittsburgh man and shortly Miss Byrne came along and was introduced. Detectives from the West 68th Street Station say the two men and Miss Byrne went to the 51st Street house in her limousine.

The girls' apartment is on the ninth floor. When detectives knocked at the door of the $250-a-month apartment voices inside told them to go to the devil. They went to the roof and down a fire escape and through a window and ordered all inside to put up their hands. Three minutes later Oberlander, who had lost money the night before, came in. He was unwilling to make a complaint until told the place was raided. Detectives said Miss Byrne tried to hide a $180 check signed by Oberlander.

Besides the diamond-studded dice, the raiders said they found a dozen other pairs, sixty decks of cards, some put-and-take tops and other games.

18 ROADS CONFERENCE SEPARATELY WITH BIG UNION CHIEFS

While Other Executives Plan Finish Fight, One Group Seeks Peace.

FIRM ON SENIORITY.

Meeting Held at Yale Club in Hope of Finding Basis of Agreement.

The heads of eighteen large railroad systems, with Daniel Willard, President of the Baltimore and Ohio, acting as Chairman, went into conference in the Yale Club to-day with the Presidents of the five railway brotherhood unions, headed by Warren D. Stone of the engineers, acting as mediators, for the purpose of arriving, if possible, at some method of settling the strike of the shopmen on the roads represented.

The conference, into which reporters were not allowed to enter, broke up at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. The labor leader mediators hurried over to the Hotel Woodstock, where they immediately got into touch with the leaders of the striking unions. Mr. Stone said he did not know whether there would be another talk with the railroad executives.

Mr. Stone appeared to be discouraged. It was quite plain after he had met the labor leaders that the labor leader mediators hurried over to the Hotel Woodstock, where they immediately got into touch with the leaders of the striking unions. Mr. Stone said he did not know whether there would be another talk with the railroad executives.

The labor leader mediators hurried over to the Hotel Woodstock, where they immediately got into touch with the leaders of the striking unions. Mr. Stone said he did not know whether there would be another talk with the railroad executives.

At first the leaders of the strikers would not listen to any proposition that did not mean a settlement on all the railroads of the country. Jewell was loud in demanding a battle to the end. However, in the course of a long controversy, it would appear that the brotherhood chiefs persuaded the militant strike leaders that it might be well to continue negotiations; otherwise, the morning conference at the Yale Club with the eighteen railroad Presidents would not have been held. These executives represented the following railroads, which are in a position to take back all the men who walked out on them: Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Northern Pacific, New York Central, Erie, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk Southern, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Lehigh and New England, Rock Island, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Louisville and Arkansas and Alabama and Vicksburg.

KINGS PROSECUTOR CALLS ON MAYOR TO SEIZE BOOKS OF MARKETS DEPARTMENT

Grand Jury Inquiry Shows Glaring Discrepancy in Reports of Pushcart Supervisors, as Exposed by Evening World, Ruston Writes—Commissioner Admits "Amazing Ignorance," He Charges.

Mayor Hyman is advised by District Attorney John E. Ruston of Kings County to seize forthwith all the books and records of the Department of Markets in the Boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and Richmond, and to have the Commissioner of Accounts and the Corporation Counsel start an investigation and suits to recover sums of which the city has been deprived by negligence, or worse, through the actions of Market Department employees.

HERE IS THE LAW COVERING MARKET GRAFT CHARGES

The charter section to which District Attorney Ruston refers in his letter to the Mayor regarding irregularities in the Department of Markets is:

"1551. Any officer of the city government, or person employed in its service, who shall wilfully violate or evade any of the provisions of law, or commit any fraud upon the city, or convert any of the public property to his own use, or knowingly permit any other person so to convert it, or by gross or culpable neglect of duty allow the same to be lost to the city, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, in addition to the penalties imposed by law, and on conviction, shall forfeit his office, and be excluded forever after from receiving or holding any office under the city government; and any person who shall wilfully swear falsely in any oath or affirmation required by this chapter shall be guilty of perjury."

HOUSE BY 141 TO 3 REJECTS DEMAND VOLSTEAD RESIGN

Motion That He Quit Because of Dry Support Quickly Voted Down.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Reignation of Representative Volstead, Republican Minnesota, because of help alleged to have been given to him in the last election by the Anti-Saloon League, was requested in a resolution presented and read in the House to-day by Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts.

Immediately after the reading of the resolution, Representative Mann, Republican, Illinois, moved that it be laid on the table, and the motion was adopted with a loud chorus of "yeas."

After the resolution had been laid on the table, which move amounted to killing it, there was a demand, led by Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, to strike it from the record and this was ordered, 141 to 3.

HOTEL STRIKE FOR 10% TIPS

BUDAPEST, Aug. 24. The hotel employees of the capital have proclaimed a general strike, following refusal of their demands for inclusion of a 10 per cent. tip in all bills presented to guests.

The guests, including a number of Americans, are being obliged to cook their own meals.

An intimation is seen in the letter that Mr. Ruston feels, after a month of activity by the Grand Jury of Kings County in investigating the taking of fees from peddlers by Market Department inspectors and the handling of the money thus collected, that there are persons in the market administration who are liable to indictment in other boroughs though they may have committed no crime in the Borough of Brooklyn.

The letter supports every allegation of The Evening World since it began urging official correction of market conditions and removal and punishment of offenders who preyed on market men and peddlers, thus increasing living costs in the home. It is as follows:

The weekly reports filed by some of the supervisors show most glaring discrepancies and the Commissioner of Markets has confessed an amazing ignorance as to their contents. They have been filed in his office in a most slipshod manner and have apparently never been audited. They bear no official file marks. No books are kept making a permanent record of their contents. No business enterprise could remain solvent one week with such methods.

In some cases there has been no attempt even to make the reports balance. One supervisor, in the year 1921, shows on the face of his own report a balance of nearly $600 entirely unaccounted for.

The same supervisor reports over $800 in "incidentals" for which no vouchers are filed and no items are given.

Other weekly reports show items for payments made to "laborers," supported by vouchers signed by the supervisor himself. Others show vouchers for money paid to laborers on the payroll of the Street Cleaning Department.

Others show frequent weekly balances of sums over $100, which should have been turned into the sinking fund, but which, instead, were distributed during the following week to additional "laborers" and "assistants."

It has been my intention to make a complete report to you of the result of my investigation when it is completed, but I deem it my duty to write you this letter now so that you may safely impugn the supervisors' reports in the other counties of the city. As I have said, they bear no file marks, and no permanent record is kept of them. I think you should take possession of them at once.
